- 03 FIRST LOVE

TO JOIN YOU

i'll raise my hand and show you i can dance i'll stand up straight and do as you command i'll make a scene so people stop and stare or disappear so i'm not even there i will place my soul within your hands reduce myself to fit your careful plans anything to join you

i can get used to doing what i'm told nothing's so good that can't be put on hold i have heard the stories of the damned but this is just the kind of man i am i will sneak my songs into your head rehearse and perform them over and over and over and over and over and over again
anything

everyone can see there's no one else for me i show you everywhere to go and you show me all from head to toe and this is all we need to know nowhere to go
i love you so

how long we pretend it's just a matter of time how long till this ends

everything they see is all controlled by me the story starts so long ago and there's no more room for us to grow but this is all we have to know feeling low

how long we defend
how soon till this ends
'cause everything is going to change i won't always feel the same old ambitions still remain and insecurities sustain and there's nothing i can do the worms are seeping through
